10 Year Guarantee on Atkinsons manufactured fencing panels - See website for full conditions

Dear Customer we would like to point out that while we source the very best timber and materials please keep in mind that timber is a natural living product that can shrink, warp, twist, split, expand, leak sap and crack. These characteristics are perfectly normal and beyond our control. While we pressure treat most products against fungal attack and decay the treatment will not stop mould growth which is not harmful to the timber but does look unsightly. We would strongly recommend a good quality exterior treatment is applied to your product as soon as it is fitted and the weather permits. We have a range of suitable products in our branches. In the event of a proven manufacturing defect the sellers total liability under no circumstances will exceed the price of the timber, the seller shall not in any way be responsible for any consequential costs or losses. Colours and shades may vary from photographs in the brochure

FIELD GATES

Atkinsons 5 Bar field gates are hand made and pressure treated for a longer life.

A traditional 5 bar field gate can be made to any size.

Available as a standard gate or with a crook fitted if required.

Made from planed tanalised timber with morticed joints and screwed braces. Please note these are heavy duty gates not standard field gates.

HARDWOOD GATES

Hardwood gates manufactured from high quality Iroko hardwood. Handcrafted by our expert joiners at our Castleford factory.

These gates are supplied oiled and also require regular oiling to keep them looking pristine.

Can be made to size as required

ECO WATERMARKS - PLEASE READ

After unpacking with watermarks

After a few weeks of being aired

Watermarks

During the extrusion process the PVC granules are heated, the molten PVC is then fed into the tool and immersed in water to cool the PVC down. When the gravel boards or posts are packed the residual heat can cause the boards and posts to sweat and this can cause a blotchy pattern as shown below in the picture. This is perfectly normal and after a few weeks in the sun and fresh air they will weather naturally.

Please Note: If you are building your own base kit the foot print is metric. Large sheds will have a split floor so a centre support will be needed. Floor bearers always run in the direction of the longest side of the shed. Allow for a double joist in the centre for 10ft sheds and above as the floor comes in 2 sections.

Timber is a porous material and as such, a good quality treatment / water repellent should be applied to your building. We recommend Teknos, Barretine, stocked at all our branches. Guttering is also a worthwhile addition. Our buildings come pre treated against rot and insect infestation but we would still highly recommend the building is also treated with a suitable water repellent to preserve the quality and life of the product. The company or seller shall not in any way be responsible for additional consequential costs or losses. See website for full terms and conditions

BUILDING BASES

Before the installation of your building its is of the uppermost importance that you have suitable, solid and perfectly level base in place. Ideally this needs to be one complete concrete base floated off. Without the correct base buildings will be difficult to construct and result in future problems of doors becoming difficult to open/close and possible water leakage.

If the base is found not suitable our teams will not be able to install your building and a reinstall charge of £150 will be applied to return at a later date.

Some other key points for bases are below.

- Concrete base min 75mm must be floated off
- Timber base with support posts every metre square
- Must be perfect finish and level
- 500mm clearance for cabins and summerhouses
- 300mm clearance for other buildings

Timber is a porous material and as such, a good quality treatment / water repellent should be applied to your building. We recommend Teknos, Barretine, stocked at all our branches. Guttering is also a worthwhile addition. Our buildings come pre treated against rot and insect infection but we would still highly recommend the building is also treated with a suitable water repellent to preserve the quality and life of the product. The company or seller shall not in any way be responsible for additional consequential costs or losses. See website for full terms and conditions

MAINTENANCE OF YOUR ATKINSONS PRODUCTS

In all instances we would recommend that 3 coats of Barittine preserver are applied even to pressure treated timber then a couple of coats of water repellent such as Barittine wood protective , wax coat or decking oil. We would recommend doing this as soon as possible after installation and re treating every 2 to 3 years depending on exposure.

In the case of untreated timber ie drive gates we would recommend as above , if you would like a pressure treated timber look first apply 2 coats of enseal then 3 coats of clear preserver then 2 coats of water repellent. Techno's can be used on treated and untreated timber again first treat with preserver then primmer then the colour you desire making sure to treat the under side of the gates.
